Gove County 4-H Fair News

Volume 2023  July 7, 2023  Number 4 of 4

Tri-State Royal

Just a quick reminder, Sherman County will once again be hosting the Tri-State Royal on Saturday, August 5, 2023, in Goodland. This show is for county champions from across the area. All market animal county champions will have first opportunity to represent Gove County at the show. If they decline then the reserve champion can have the opportunity to go. Showmanship representation will be determined by the judge of our fair for each species.

We need to hear from the winners, regarding their intentions to show at the Tri-State Royal by the end of show day. This will allow us time to get the alternates. Entries are due online by Wednesday, August 2nd, before 5:00 p.m. You can enter online at: http://www.showringmaster.com/Tri-State-Royal-Champion-of-Champions/Upcoming-Shows/Tri-State-Royal-Champion-of-Champions

4-H Ribbons
Sometimes there is confusion on the ribbon systems used at the fair. All inside 4-H & Open Class Static Exhibits are judged using the Danish system (except pets, dogs, cats, poultry, rabbits, and livestock.) 4-H & Open Class Livestock shows will use the Modified Danish System.

Danish System:
- All exhibits receive a ribbon
- Exhibits are judged in comparison with an ideal standard, not to each other.
- Exhibits are placed in 4 ribbon groups – purple, blue, red, or white.
- Grand & Reserve Champions will be awarded in each age division if quality is shown.
- Open Class exhibits will receive “Best of Show” for their champion ribbon

Grand Champion – is awarded to the highest quality exhibit in the project area. If it’s quality merits this award
Reserve Grand Champion – is awarded to the second highest quality exhibit in one project area, if it’s quality merits this award.
Class Champion – is awarded to the highest quality exhibit in a single division if there is a worthy exhibit.
Reserve Class Champion – is awarded to the second highest quality exhibit if there is a worthy exhibit.

Purple – outstanding on all standards
Blue – exceeds the minimum standard; may have minor flaws where improvements can be made.
Red – meets all minimum standards; may be visible signs of needed improvement.
White – fails to meet minimum standards.
Participation – are awarded to those exhibits that do not meet requirements. This ribbon indicates to the 4-Her that the exhibit was not necessarily poor in quality, only that it did not meet the project requirements as indicated in the fair book. Participation ribbons are also awarded to Clover Buds or other “participation” only classes.

Modified Danish System
(Pets, Dogs, Cats, Poultry, Rabbits & Livestock)
Exhibits are compared to a standard, placed in 4 color ribbon groups, but are ranked top to bottom within each ribbon group.

Teaching Kids to Take Responsibility
Teaching kids to take responsibility is a parent’s job. When parents show through their words and actions that they take responsibility for their own behavior, they become an effective and powerful role model for their children.

Here are some do’s and don’ts for modeling responsible behavior:
- Listen to Your Words
  Avoid phrases that imply that someone other than yourself is in charge of your actions. For “I can’t,” say “I don’t want to.” For “I should, substitute “I’ve decided to.”
- Set Reasonable Expectations, Then Give Children Opportunities To Live up to Them.
  Don’t expect your kids to read your mind. Be clear about what you expect them to do. And once they know what’s expected, don’t be in a hurry to help them out. Give them a chance to make, and learn from their mistakes.
- Explore Issues of Responsibility With Your Children by Encouraging Them to Think About Action; and Consequences.
  Rather than ask why something happened, ask what went on and keep asking. If the child seems dissatisfied with the result, ask what he/she would do differently next time.
- Be Responsive, Not Reactive.
  When something angers you, take time to calm down, then think of alternatives that can get you back in charge of the situation. Reflecting on the outcomes afterwards can help you – and your kids – make better choices in the future.
- Get Involved in the Community.
  Participation in some kind of volunteerism helps all family members recognize that they are part of something much larger than their circle of family and friends.

Sportsmanship
Conduct becoming to an individual involving fair and honest competition, courteous relations and graceful acceptance of results. All participants in 4-H and other youth programs are expected to demonstrate each of the following elements of sportsmanship before, during, and after their participation:

1. Conduct: Demonstrate and maintain high standards of personal behavior and conduct which becomes you as an individual and as a representative of your family, your club, your community and the 4-H program or other youth programs in which you are involved.

2. Fairness: Learn and follow the rules. Do not cheat. Be objective, honest and just in evaluating yourself and others.

3. Honesty: Be truthful, fair and straight-forward in everything you say and do. Show integrity. Don't lie or deceive. Do your own work. Do not understate or overstate your abilities, skills, or accomplishments.

4. Competition: Accept that the nature of competition is seeking to get what others are seeking to get, involves rivalry between contestants to earn rewards, and results in both winners and losers.

5. Courtesy: Be well-mannered in your conduct. Be respectful, thoughtful, considerate, cooperative, friendly, and cheerful in your attitude and your behavior regardless of whether you do well or not, or whether you win or lose.

6. Graceful Acceptance of Results: Accept judges' suggestions and the results with a positive attitude.

Your Checklist for Judging

Fair week is very exciting for all exhibitors, but it is especially stressful on the novice members. There are so many things to remember and it seems everyone waits until minutes before the show to share their advice.

Some of these tips may not seem very important, but they all add to a successful experience in front of the judge.

- I have no gum in my mouth
- I have on clean clothes. No shirts with questionable sayings, etc.
- I have on a belt if my pants have belt loops.
- I have my hair combed and fixed so it doesn't hang down in front of my face.
- I don't have on any jewelry that will hang down and get in the way.
- I have my show equipment-bat/brush/comb that I will need in the show ring.
- I have already turned in my entry cards.
- I know the breed of animal I am showing.
- I know how much my animal weighs.
- I know how old my animal is.
- I know what and how much I feed my animal each day.
- I will wear a pleasant face and be a great sport no matter what happens in the show ring.
- I know how the recipe is to be followed.
- I know how much my animal weighs.
- I know how old my animal is.
- I know how much I feed my animal.
- I will wear a pleasant face and be a great sport.
- I read the instructions to mount & hang items.
- I have my projects prepared.
- I have all documents required.
- And always remember to thank the judge after the consultation for a job well done.

Ten Commandments for 4-H Parents

1. Thou shalt not feed, train, make or bake projects for thou are trying to teach the child responsibility.

2. Thou shalt forgive a child for making mistakes while showing for thou hath made mistakes, too.

3. Thou shalt not get mad when thy child forgets items in thy project, for one day thou may forget something, too.

4. Thou shalt help the show management for they are doing a job that thou would not want to do.

5. Thou shalt see that thy child is on time for all activities for thou shalt not want to wait for another.

6. Thou shalt ensure that thy child has the project entered and the entry papers in order by the designated time.

7. Thou shalt teach thy child that winning a blue ribbon is a desirable goal, but making friends along the way is more a worthy goal.

8. Thou shalt not complain about the judge, for it is his/her opinion that has been sought.

9. Thou shalt not forget that all projects are teaching projects, not moneymaking.

10. Thou shalt remember that the 4-H project is a family project that shall be enjoyed and supported by the entire family.

Just a few reminders of things to look out for during fair week! We look forward to a fun time encouraging each other in our project mastery and learning alongside friends!

Exhibit Changes:

1. Judging Contest Kits will be set up Monday from 1 p.m. to approximately 8 p.m. for any 4-H member who is interested. Please remember these are for contest and cell phones should NOT be used during the duration of your test. Volunteers will be around to help guide youth in finding paperwork, reading questions out loud, and providing some helpful answers if needed.

2. We ask that you keep tabs on how the judging time is moving along. We will be using an automated text messaging service to help notify families of what is coming up next. Time Spots will be available at each judges table and Extension desk. This is more of a line order so please arrive early in case we are moving faster than expected.

3. Foods Check In- We will start checking in Food Projects at 7:00 a.m. and be finished by 8:30 a.m. All foods must be checked in by 8:30 a.m. If you are participating in the Small Animal Show, you may check in your food projects from 7-8:30 a.m. After you have checked-In and set food on assigned tables, we encourage you to go watch the Small Animal show beginning at 9 am while you wait for food judging to take place starting at 9:00 am. Foods judging begins at 9 a.m.

4. Food Judges may not feel comfortable tasting food again this year and that is fine. They will be using a system on overall baking science learning and growth in project, so come prepared to answer questions about all you have learned this year within the Foods & Nutrition Project and not just what you learned with that specific item. It is not mandatory for judges to try foods in order to evaluate the project. (i.e. food allergies/intolerances)

5. Buymanship and Clothing Construction- We will hold the judging portion again at the St. Agnes Catholic Education Center beginning at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, July 14. Outside observers are welcome to come to the judging portion, however space is limited. They are welcome to come enjoy the public review Wednesday evening. There will be designated dressing rooms with 1 being for MALES ONLY. Once you are dressed we kindly ask that you keep all undergarments or spare clothes picked up so the next contestant dressing has a clean space. Please knock before entering any dressing room. Privacy should be respected. There will be no call backs this year so once you are done judging you are free to go. Power strips will be provided for hair tools & accessories. Participants are encouraged to bring their own mirrors.

6. Rabbits & Poultry- They are ALLOWED to stay onsite if you would like to display at this year’s fair. NO Poultry testing this year due to new regulations set by the USDA

7. Cloverbuds- Reminder they are allowed 1 static entry for their Cloverbud exhibit, all other items will need to be open class. Cloverbuds are also to be judged in the area their project fits, we do not have a specific Cloverbud judge. (ex. John, age 5, baked cookies. He would go be judged by a Foods judge)

The Projects will then be displayed in the Cloverbud Booth. Please help judge see they are a Cloverbud.

8. Ribbon Changes- Once again we will be using stickers again for ribbons this year. Grand & Reserve Champion Rosettes will be attached to projects for display during fair week. Ribbon packets will be available for pickup at the Extension office starting after lunch on Thursday, July 27.

9. Reminder the fair is all about having fun, making friends, encouraging our mastery of skill, and celebrating victories!

10. Gove County Medical Center Spotlight Award- Gove County Medical Center Spotlight Award. GCMC will be coming to fair to choose Photography projects to be on display in the hospital hallways during the month of October. If you have been chosen for this spotlight, you will receive further information on how to prepare your photograph for display!

11. Miscellaneous Exhibits- These are the few projects that have smaller amount of entries so a couple judges tackle that list. In Fair newsletter #3 page 5, we list the judge assistant and the order of projects they will be judging in. Our automated text messaging service will help aid in keeping everyone informed on what project we are currently judging and what is coming up soon. We will be around to help make sure no family is missed. Newsletters can be found on the Golden Prairie District Website: https://www.goldenprairie.k-state.edu/4-h/gove-fair.html

12. Please refrain from being a “No Show” for scratched events. Alert extension ahead of judging, so we may take you off the list.

13. NEW for KSF 2023- For food safety purposes, any entries with frostings and fillings must calculate the amount of sugar in the recipe only. Calculation publication is listed on our website. If you wish to do this for the Gove Co. Fair, it is welcomed and encouraged. It will be mandatory for all State Fair Food Project exhibits. (recipe must contain more than 65% sugar for safety)
Fair Entries
Please get your fair entries submitted through our online portal FairEntry. 2023 will be the final year for hand written entries. Starting in 2024 all fair exhibits must have completed Pre-Fair Entries. If you are having troubles with entries or do not have access to a computer, call Extension and we can help you out! Your entry cards will be printed and in your family folders like last year! So please come find us at fair to collect entry tags! Any scratched events are to be marked with ‘red slash’ and placed back in family folder. Livestock will again just be double checked, and we will hand them out after ribbons have been attached.

Photo matte boards are available in office, will be at 2nd clean-up day while Extension Staff is present, and we will bring to fair Monday ONLY! Charge is $2 per board/sleeve and must be paid when picked up.
